Re: Public Health Measures

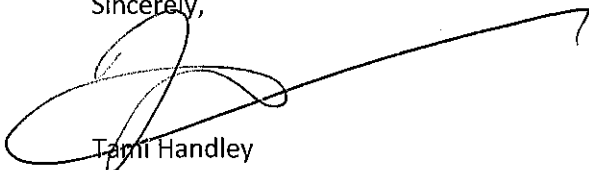

On October 1, 2021, a public health order was put into place in Saskatchewan which requires proof of vaccination or recent negative COVID-19 test when entering non-essential businesses. Non-essential businesses that require proof of vaccination or a recent negative COVID-19 test include, but are not limited to, dine-in restaurants, establishments licensed to serve alcohol, liquor and cannabis stores, fitness centres and gyms, and event and entertainment venues such as casinos, bingo halls, theatres, concerts, and sporting events where GST is charged on the ticket. One piece of personal photo identification is also required to accompany your proof of vaccination or a negative COVID-19 test.

Proof of vaccination requires that the individual has received all of the recommended number of doses of a COVID-19 vaccine approved by Health Canada and 14 or more days have passed since the last recommended number of doses. If not fully vaccinated, a negative COVID-19 test, paid for by the person being tested, is required. The test must be dated no later than within the previous 72 hours.

In order to assist you with accessing non-essential businesses in the community upon your release from custody, you can request to be vaccinated while in the correctional facility. COVID-19 has been identified by the Ministry of Health and the Chief Medical Health Officer as a serious public health threat and a category I communicable disease. Vaccines approved for use in Canada have proven to be safe and highly effective at reducing the transmission of COVID-19 as well as reducing negative health outcomes, such as hospitalization and death, in vaccinated persons who do contract COVID-19.

If you wish to be vaccinated, or have any questions or concerns about the COVID-19 vaccination, please speak with Tracey (nurse), your Case Manager or Mark or Darin and they will assist you.

Sincerely,

Tami Handley
